

Athens, September 8 2008

PRESS RELEASE

DIONIC GROUP OF COMPANIES NEW WEBSITE

www.dionicgroup.com

www.dionicgroup.com is the new website of DIONIC Group which marks the Group's re-organization of its structure and activities.

With over 12 years of presence, DIONIC Group is a leader in the trade and distribution of a diversified product portfolio that includes over 35,000 product codes. Today, DIONIC Group is expanding and growing, increasing and upgrading its activities that involve trade and distribution, consulting services, software, real-estate development and energy.

Within this scope, the Group presents its new website which, with its modern style, user-friendly operation and its integral design, marks the beginning of a new age. With a new internet address, dionicgroup.com denotes both its identity as a group of companies and the international dimension of its activities.

More specifically, Dionic Group's website presents the commercial activity performed by DIONIC and its subsidiaries in a modern manner and constitutes a field in which the Group is dynamically active with its 10,000 clients and 500 suppliers. Furthermore, the website presents the Group's services in the Business Consulting sector through its subsidiary, DIADIKASIA S.A., which is one of the largest companies rendering specialized consulting services to private and public companies and organizations in Greece.

The software services are rendered by ATCOM, a company with experience and considerable know-how in the sector of digital applications and new technologies. ATCOM designed, created and manages www.dionicgroup.com through the Internet application development platform, Netvolution, which is a state-of-the-art system in terms of technology and reliability.

At the same time, the new website offers detailed information about the Group's activity in the sector of real-estate development, management and exploitation through DI.AN.A. S.A., but also about the newly-established DIONIC AEOLIAN S.A., which represents the Group's activity in the sector of alternative forms of energy and, in particular, of wind energy.

With ATCOM's innovative technological support and modern visual design, DIONIC Group's new website is the Group's top means of communication with its clients, its associates and the investment community. The Investors' Relation unit provides, amongst others, a dynamic stock graph, analytical tables with the company's financial statements, as well as an archive with announcements and press releases, corporate presentations and announcements-publications.

The old website address www.dionic.gr which is a reference point for associates, clients and shareholders of the Group, will automatically redirect visitors to the Group's new internet address for the convenience of users.

Providing information both in Greek and English and soon in more languages, dionicgroup.com is the best ambassador to feature the Group's new structure which is being modernized and re-organized in order to proceed towards the future dynamically with new activities and new growth prospects.