

PRESS RELEASE
DECEMBER 1, 2008

DIONIC GROUP SUBSIDIARY ATCOM INTERNET AND MULTIMEDIA S.A. SIGNED AN AGREEMENT WITH LAMBRAKIS PRESS S.A. (DOL)

DIONIC Group, within the scope of its activities in the software and technology sector, announces that ATCOM Internet and Multimedia S.A., its subsidiary of this sector, in order to bolster its web services activities, signed an agreement for a challenging project, which consists of the in depth upgrading and reformation of the two major national newspapers of the Lambrakis Press (DOL), "TA NEA" and "TO VIMA" online presence.

The 2 new portals (www.tanea.gr and www.tovima.gr) are supported by ATCOM's branded content management system Netvolution™, which according to DOL's evaluation provides the required flexibility and reliability. Netvolution™'s state of the art technical specifications in conjunction with ATCOM's extended knowhow in realizing similar large scale online projects clearly reflect the optimum implementation of DOL's strategy in this domain.

We remind you that ATCOM Internet and Multimedia S.A., a member of the Dionic Group, is a leader today in the Greek Internet Business market, with over 900 projects completed and a broad clientele base that includes large press groups, Internet Service Providers, mobile carriers, and domestic companies with international operations, which confirm the high standards of its technology as well as the top quality of its products and services. In addition, the company is planning to expand its activity following the establishment of its subsidiary Atcom UK, headquartered in London.

All these actions are a clear confirmation of the Group's management strategic choices for investing gradually into new profitable activities, which, in addition to the core activity that is the trading and distribution of consumer products, also include the consulting services, the software, the real estate development and the energy sectors.
